Tile Mate Tracker

I have used these for about two years and they have worked great - especially when Air Canada couldn't find my luggage. I have them in our backpacks and with our car keys.

On Black Friday I upgraded to the newest version.

Nothing wrong with these four. They all have batteries (Tile lets you know when the battery is weak) with one just replaced a few days ago.

In original container. These are the squarer version not the rounded ones.
